MARION'S 1930 CENSUS FIGURE IS DUE TODAY

Tabulation of Enumerators' Returns Started at Headquarters This Morning

1920 COUNT WAS 27 891

Change in Old Ward Lines Will Prevent Comparison with 1920 District Count

Marion's 1930 census figure was expected to be released late today It was indicated this morning at the office of Frank A Berry district supervisor in the Marion National Bank building

Tabulation of the various enumerators returns was begun today with the completion of a district which for several days had been holding up the final count

Increase Predicted

Indications that Marion will show a healthy growth in the last 10 years is intimated by attaches of the census office although definite figures will not be available until Berry announcement is made The 1920 census was 27 891

Increases or decreases in the various wards cannot be determined since the wards have been redistricted since the 1920 census it is pointed out

Marion boosters point out that the 1930 figure will not be indicative of the city's true expansion since scores of new residents housing Marion people have been erected outside the corporation limits This condition consequently is expected to boost Marion's worship total

No Chance There

A CERTAIN ambitious youngster round the 11-year mark decided that with the coming of warm weather he would begin figuring on how to earn some pocket-money during the spring and summer.

Mowing lawns seemed to be about as good a plan as any and he began making a survey of South Side properties near his home that would be regarded as likely prospects.

He consulted his father for suggestions.

"Why not try Mr. So-and-so; he has a nice big lawn," the father proposed.

"Yeh, and he's got a nice lot of fat that he'll want to work off doing his own grass cutting. I don't think there's any chance to get that job," the youngster answered.

Sand, sand, sand, the women cry as they stealthily lift one foot in front of the other, praying that the shoe will still be on the best foot forward.

CHESTERFIELD'S POPULARITY is fairly won with finer tobaccos, blended and cross-blended to give greater delicacy and richer fragrance.

IT TAKES TIME and is costly to make cigarettes the Chesterfield way, but no other way arrives so surely, so completely at what you want most . . . "TASTE above everything".

Daily Proverb— There is no man so bad but he secretly respects the good

Former Governor James M Cox is making a noise a lot like a man who wouldn't be adverse to stoking another encore or two

Mrs Will Rogers is said to laugh at her husband's jokes But then a really clever woman can learn to do almost anything

They were somewhat tardy but local haberdashers have finally bowed to the decree of the weatherman and placed straw hats on sale

That forty five-mile an hour windstorm the weather people were to have delivered Wednesday night must have been delayed or delayed in transmission

Bishop Irving P Johnson remarks that "theology is like our skeletons It is rather important but it is far more useful on the inside than anywhere else The same we take it, may also be said of religion

The non violence campaign of Mahatma Gandhi has already claimed almost two score deaths, which gives us a new slant on a campaign of non violence

Governor Myers Y Cooper is said to have donned the ten gallon hat of Sheriff John J Francis down in Columbus We always felt that sooner or later, the governor would achieve distinction

A woman passenger on the Royal Mail steamer Arcadian, fainted when the customs agents in New York seized and destroyed thirteen bottles of fine assorted liquors found in her trunk A lot of people will feel that to waste anything so rare in this day and age as good liquor is enough to make anybody faint

Denmark Solves Her Liquor Problem

Placing a high tax on alcoholic drinks is Denmark's solution of the liquor problem Dr August Wimmer, director of the Neuropsychiatric clinic of Copenhagen told the delegates of the International Congress on Mental Hygiene at its opening session in Washington

The problem has been so well solved the doctor told his hearers, that he no longer is able to find cases of delirium tremens to use in his classes in the university Twenty years ago, he said the university, which looks after all the alcoholic cases of Copenhagen a city of 700 000 handled as high as 850 cases of alcoholic mental trouble and as many as a hundred cases of delirium tremens but since 1915 he had not had over twenty cases of the latter and has not seen any in the last ten years

Before the war said Dr Wimmer there was a vast amount of alcoholism But in the second year after the war the government attacked the problem by imposing very high taxes on alcoholic drinks

"Under this plan a bottle of brandy which formerly had cost twenty five or thirty five cents cost three dollars or more A bottle of whisky which used to cost $1 00 or two dollars now costs six dollars

Together with this increase in the cost of liquor there has developed a marked propensity to moderation It is not now regarded nice to get tipsy

In my student days it was common for us to go into a cafe and take a glass of beer Or when we were feeling very Bohemian we might take a glass of French absinthe

But now I would not dare to go into a cafe to take a glass of beer for fear that I might be regarded as a drunkard

The high tax plan may meet the drink problem over in Denmark but we very gravely fear that it would fail to deliver the desired results over here Were the government again to enter a disreputable business by way of the tax route making whisky obtainable in a legal way at anything in the neighborhood of six dollars a bottle we can not see how such a course would in any way curb the activities of the rum runners and bootleggers On the contrary it might prove of aid and comfort to them even though the bottle to be had at six dollars contained a full quart The liquor traffic still would finance the criminal world as it does now and that today is the worst phase of prohibition The hardest blow which could be administered to the rum runners the bootleggers and the criminal world generally would not be to put a high tax on liquor but to permit it to be sold free of tax just as sugar, flour potatoes and other articles are sold today Such a course might increase liquor consumption and drunkenness, but it certainly would put the rum runner and the bootlegger out of business and deprive the criminal world of the source of almost an unlimited revenue it now commands

Questionable Textbooks.

The barring by the city board of superintendents of "Modern History" the work of Professor Carlton J H Hayes of Columbia university and Associate Professor Parker T Moon which has been used as a textbook in the schools of the metropolis for the last seven years has aroused controversy in New York City

One of the complaints which led to the discarding of the Hayes Moon history and which is said to be typical of other complaints was that it is objectionable for use as a textbook on both civic and religious grounds that the authors dogmatically express their views on religious matters which are controversial without making reference whatever to the positions of those holding to the contrary being particularly offensive in their handling of the Reformation to those of the Lutheran Presbyterian and Episcopal faiths

The basis for objection on civic and patriotic ground as expressed in the charge that the history evidently was written in line with some visionary scheme of internationalism its purpose being to break down by direct and persistent insinuation respect for political democracy patriotism and everything that pertains to nationalism" It was further charged that the history encourages radicalism by continual criticism of the economic basis of modern society under the name of capitalism contrasting it unfavorably with conditions in the Middle ages

How far these charges went in influencing the board of superintendents to drop the history is not stated It may be as held out by one of its members that the board took the action that it did because with so many history attainable to which no objection has been made it would be folly to retain history to which objection had been repeatedly taken but in any event the complaints finally brought the board to the point of taking action

While controversies over matters pertaining to religion are ever to be regretted by all interested in the advancement of the Christian church this particular controversy does not give us so much concern as it otherwise might for the reason that we have a feeling that it will speedily be adjusted because of the good sense of the leaders in New York City of the various faiths concerned a feeling fortified by the fact that there unquestionably is a good fellowship trend among the religionists there But we are concerned deeply concerned when it is held out that a text book is in use in any American school which would tend to lead to the substitution of internationalism for nationalism and pacifism for patriotism If the Hayes Moon history has a tendency to do that the New York City board of superintendents did well in barring it

So great in recent years has been the volume of propaganda put out by the internationalists the pacifists and others who are constantly warring against our form of government and thus against our government that there is little ground for surprise over such a charge, and the fact that the American Civil Liberties union is exerting itself to the utmost to raise the ban against this particular textbook has a tendency to make one believe that there may be something in the charge

So plain is it that the internationalists and pacifists are striving to destroy our spirit of nationalism and patriotism that one running may read Under such conditions in such a situation the utmost care should be exercised by patriotic Americans that they do not assist in the campaign against American policies and American ideals by permitting the use of textbooks which may pervert in those regards the mind of the school youth of the land

That New York girl who mazde 311 loops in a row would have lots more appeal to many a young man were she to demonstrate that she is equally expert in turning flapjacks

Have we in the losses in population sustained in some of our northern industrial cities and the impressive gains made in many of the industrial cities of the South a reflection of the excessive tax and other penalties exacted from industry up here in the North?

The Elyria plant of the Willys Overland company has been dismantled and is being moved to Toledo Will Elyria we wonder subscribe to the theory that it is better to have won and lost than never to have won at all"

The Ohio utilities commission has decided that a power company which provides a line extension at the expense of a limited number of subscribers must supply service to other applicants regardless of whether the latter to share in the cost of the extension Wonder if this decision is applicable to consumers of gas?

The gas consumers of Massillon we are told will save $50 000 during the next two years by entering into an agreement to pay the East Ohio Gas company $1 01 instead of the present $1 25 for 1 000 cubic feet of gas whereas they might have been charged $1 50 In other words they will not be stung within $50 000 of what they might have been had the gas people exacted the $1 50 rate

Italy having ratified the Young plan Great Britain is now the only big nation involved in the reparations matter outside the fold However Britain must be forgiven a lot just at present there is so much down in India demanding her attention

Miss Ruth Hanna McCormick denies the charge of the Illinois Democratic state central committee but something like $750 000 from other sources was spent in behalf of her senatorial primary candidacy in addition to the quarter of a million dollars she herself expended It is good to have her denial It would be awful to think that $1 000 000 in good money had been blown in on a nomination for anything or even as pie put questionable value as a seat in the senate

HEROES MADE TO ORDER

Whether Deadwood Dick whose death at eighty four is now moved conferred more fame on the Black Hills city than that relic of a historic past shed upon its picturesque human survival is a question which is open to argument Whatever may be the truth there is not the slightest doubt that the publicity value growing out of the alliterative linking of the two names has been for decades of benefit to the little mining community

From early manhood Deadwood Dick had the unique experience of having himself converted into a legend He witnessed in person all the stages of the process by which a quite common individual at the whim of the fates may be converted in the time into a demigod It took longer in ancient days Usually centuries were needed for the translation But America the land of motion manufactures its minor deities while you wait

Some expert the hack writers of dime novel days ever accused Deadwood Dick of being a hero There are those who speak of him slightingly as a bullwhacker of the usual sort without any real claim to greatness It is probable that he had experiences quite typical of pioneer days in the West but it is certain that he never was the dashing rival of the deep drinking brave the daring rescuer of beauty in distress celebrated by immature scribblers in the unreturning past

That resplendent figure was a sort of sun myth evolved by a coterie of unregenerate fictionists to whom everything west of Hoboken was untrodden wilderness Yet in spite of the wild improbability of their hard tales—almost as improbable as some of our latest modern mystery thrillers—they did a real service to mankind They kindled the minds of a whole generation with deeds of high adventure and they aided materially after the gold rush was over in turning the feet of the tourist to a region which undoubtedly needed the money

Deadwood Dick with Wild Bill Hickok Calamity Jane and Texas Jack Omohundro seconded their efforts For this service alone these worthies should raise to them a modest monument in a community which never took them as seriously as did the credulous world outside —Chicago News

INSURMOUNTABLE FROM THE PRIMARY

Other candidates for the senate have spent as much money in primary election campaigns as Mr Ruth Hanna McCormick says she spent in the one she recently won in Illinois We do not mention this for the purpose of justifying Mrs McCormick's outlay—the question of justification will be threshed out before the senate special committee We simply write down a fact of some general importance because it is illustrative of a tendency which is becoming more marked year by year

Big campaign expenditures either direct or camouflaged are inseparable from primary election fights where the contest is for high office and covers a large area or includes a large population A candidate who desires to supersede some one already in office as in particular forced to incur a considerable outlay unless his opponent has been hopelessly discredited and the returns are perfectly plain to anybody familiar with politics

Sometimes the use of large funds may be entirely legitimate as in case the question of honesty is concerned but the practice easily becomes dark and devious and always has a tendency toward demoralization However no amount of criticism or condemnation will end it and legal prohibition will only produce secrecy and evasion The cure was to do away with the inflated campaign fund as to all those in contests that have produced it—the primary election system — Detroit Free Press

Go After Health

BY ROYAL S COPELAND, M D

This article is being written in Atlantic City on a day in early April It is a bright sunshiny day but pretty cool Yesterday was even brighter but not hot by any means

The attractive Boardwalk is crowded with visitors. Nobody stays in the house. The novelty of the walk the attractive shop windows the wheel chairs the restless throng—all these offer inducement to join the procession

I saw many pale faces and puny children Anxious parents are hoping that the sunshine and pure air will promote health Thousands go there for health reasons Tired business men and worn out housewives find rest and strength at this delightful spot

There is the herd instinct in many of us It is difficult to do anything alone In company with others we can accomplish everything

Bathing beach, a ball field an excursion on the river or this famous Boardwalk will take us quickly into the air We walk miles with the crowd when without the stimulus of competition we wouldn't go a block

It takes bravery or a disciplined mind to do things alone It is far easier to follow the beaten path That is why many go to Europe and few to Hudson's Bay

Yesterday I saw a newspaper dispatch from Florida It quoted one of America's great men

If Thomas A Edison were told he could have any one thing in the material mental or spiritual worlds he would choose good health he told newspaper reporters

With certain limitations we can acquire and keep good health It is ours for the taking But to have it we can't sit down and fold our hands We must get up and go after it

That is why we need places like Atlantic City and intervals that take us into the open Exercise in the sunshine is worth everything Every day you spend in the open is like putting money in the bank Every such day is actually a deposit in the bank of health

If you store up health you will have reserves of strength and energy to call upon when you face unpleasant experiences in life If you can't find friends to do things with you you must go by yourself That is the way to get health Mr Edison prizes above all other things

Formation of the Universe.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON

When [illegible] generalized [illegible] formed [illegible] more general [illegible] laws of astronomy [illegible] law of universal [illegible] original cosmos [illegible] ter of uniform [illegible] of cosmos [illegible]

Only five years [illegible] of universal gravitation [illegible] of Trinity college [illegible] force of gravitation would not account for the aggregation of matter in space In a letter of date December 10 [illegible] made the following [illegible]

It seems [illegible] sun and planets and [illegible] universe were [illegible] all the heavens and every part had an innate gravity toward a the [illegible] who space throughout which this matter was scattered was [illegible] outside of this space would by a gravity tend toward all the matter on the inside and by consequence fall down into the middle of the whole space and there compose one great spherical mass

But if the matter were equally dispersed throughout an infinite space it could never convene into one mass but some it would convene into one mass and some into another so as to make an infinite number of great masses scattered great distances from one to another throughout all that infinite space And then might the particles of matter formed supposing the matter were of a uniform nature

Recent investigations of Sir James Jeans carried out with mathematical rigor throw much light upon the occurrence of deviations shrewd humans

Consider a series of molecules flying through space say with the speed of sound —370 yards a second At a given point with a normal number of molecules in its vicinity there is a concentration of molecules when the moving molecules arrive there As each molecule exerts a gravitational pull on all its neighbor an excess of molecules at some point indicates an excess of gravitational force at that point

Now Jeans has shown that a condensation 2 000 000 miles in diameter will exert twice the gravitational force of a condensation 1 000 000 miles in diameter The greater the extent in space of a condensation the more favorable are conditions for its continued growth Jeans showed that the condensations must have taken place originally not in stars as Newton supposed but in bodies having the weight of millions of stars These bodies must have been immense nebulae such as M 1 which is 2 000 000 000 times the weight of the sun — Copyright 1930 International Feature Service Inc

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON

Average life earnings of those trained in elementary schools are $64 000 of high school graduates $88 000, of classical colleges $141 000 and of technical colleges from $200 000 to $250 000 So says Wickenden president of the famous Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland There are 1 000 technical positions open each year with only 9 000 graduates of the technical schools to fill them Probably two thirds of the 40 000 positions could be filled Wickenden thinks by men who have had a briefer course than is customary in colleges today That is something for educators to think about

As has been said in this column before quoting Sir Michael Sadler, What most concerns humanity in the long run is the preservation of genius and not the mediocrity of the crowd

The very fact that there is the need of the crowd offers opportunity and inspiration to young men and women The very places in business and professional life are begging for the unusual man and the unusual woman Don't ever think the quality is inherited There is such a thing as acquired genius

MIAMI OFFICIALS ON CAPONE'S TRAIL

Give Him Choice of Leaving or Facing Frequent Arrests.

By The Associated Press.

MIAMI Fla. May 9—Adopting the Chicago plan the authorities of Miami have given Scarface Al Capone the choice of leaving or being arrested every time a policeman sees him.

They picked him up yesterday and held him in jail for investigation for two and a half hours before a circuit judge freed him on a writ of habeas corpus. They're going to do it again when he appears in the city they told Capone as he returned to his estate on Palm Island with a waiting taxicab a receipt for $4,161 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $10,000 which police took from him.

It was Capone's third appearance in court since his arrival April 20. He testified when the federal court made permanent an injunction against 20 Florida sheriffs forbidding them from deporting him without a warrant as instructed by Governor Doyle Carlton. Litigation to padlock Capone's home as a nuisance is pending the state courts and he appeared at a preliminary hearing in this case.

While there was considerable rifle fire machine guns were not used. A machine gun was taken through the crowd at one time by an auxiliary force, but the mob melted away before it.

the source of his money, police were given the clue which unravelled the burglary.

In city prison Milford Daly confessed to the burglary, but did not implicate his brother in any way. He gave instructions to his brother to bring in the loot, telling him where it had been cached in the foundation of an uninhabited house.

Meantime, the older brother had moved the jewelry from this cache to his own home, and still later, according to his confession, hid it in a box car in the railroad yards. The car can not be found.

Makes Confession

Arrested on investigation, the elder brother admitted complicity in the crime and signed a detailed confession.

A woman's link bracelet, set with diamonds and pearls, and valued at $500 is the most valuable piece of loot obtained by the two. A three strand pearl necklace, an inlaid gold watch and chain, an old fashioned breast pin, gold beads, and other miscellaneous jewelry were also taken. Only the watch has been recovered.

Both brothers were arrested by police within the last week, and have been under fire of questions since that time. Chester Daly is married and is said by police to have formerly been in the industrial school and Lancaster.

"Broke and hungry" is the reason given by the men for their confessed burglary. Mrs. Chester Daly knew of the details of the burglary, and also signed a statement telling of seeing the jewelery at her home.

resigning the federal government in espionage cases in Pennsylvania.

Favored by Reed and Watson

Those who endorsed him for the supreme court included Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, also appeared the selection at a breakfast conference today at the White House.

Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana prosecutor of the oil investigation, and himself a distinguished lawyer, has had a particularly close association with Roberts during the oil prosecutions. Today Walsh was out of town and could not be reached immediately for an opinion respecting Roberts' qualifications for the highest court.

If the president's latest selection is confirmed—and no immediate dissent was heard—the result will be to shift one place on the court from the South to the North. Justice Sanford, who died in March, was from Tennessee.

Sanford, like Roberts, was a Republican, and so is Judge Parker, rejected Wednesday.

Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, chairman of the judiciary committee, and one of the leaders in the fight against Chief Justice Hughes and Judge Parker, was elated at the news of Roberts' selection.

However, as chairman of the committee which must pass on the nomination, Senator Norris withheld any public expression. The nomination will be considered in committee Monday.

PRESENT HEAT WAVE MAY BREAK SUNDAY

Predict Showers for Late Tomorrow; Mercury Hits 85 Mark Three Times.

Marion continued to simmer under mid-summer heat as fourth deaths in Ohio and two other states were reported today.

Little relief from the hot sun which sent temperatures up to the 85 mark for the third consecutive time yesterday is anticipated before Sunday afternoon, when thundershowers are forecast by official weathermen.

Last night brought a little respite from burning temperatures when the mercury dropped to 58 degrees, a comparatively high figure. A year ago the high was 59, the low 43.

The first heat death of the season in Cleveland, was reported with the death of Daniel F. Koepke, 55, waterworks employe, who dropped dead while working, according to Associated Press dispatches today.

Three deaths in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia were attributed today to heat prostration.

The weather bureau at Pittsburgh reported a maximum of 82 degrees yesterday, while at Morgantown, W. Va., the temperature was 98.

The victims were Chris Muer, 55, at Pittsburgh; Edward Martin Simond, 31, at Morgantown, and Gladys Coulter, 6 weeks old, at Moundsville, W. Va.

CAPONE SOUGHT

Brother of Al Alleged Head of Aerial Liquor Smuggling Line.

CHICAGO, May 9—Revealed by probation agents as the alleged director of a huge liquor-smuggling business employing airplanes as transports, Ralph Capone, brother of Alphonse, was expected to surrender today to federal authorities who hold two warrants for his arrest.

The liquor smuggling ring has employed large cabin airplanes to run more than a million dollars worth of choice liquors from points in Canada to Cicero, Ill., stronghold of the Capone gang, according to special prohibition agents from Washington who have been working here for several weeks.

Led by Alexander Jamie the agents yesterday raided the Cotton club and the Greyhound inn, two night clubs owned by Capone.

the convicts indicate an unwillingness to leave their fenced-in "prison."

After the stockade has been emptied of all who willingly submit to being transferred, any remaining prisoners will be forced to leave by the guardsmen and prison guards.

Convicts who indicate that they will not voluntarily leave the stockade stand around and amuse themselves by heckling the militiamen.

Harry D. Silver, state finance director, representing Governor Cooper, made an inspection of the bastile this morning. He said: "We'll have all of the men out of the stockade by nightfall."

Asked if he thought any trouble would accompany the removal of the inmates, Silver said:

"We'll try to get them out peacefully. If not—otherwise—but we'll get them out."

Colonel Hambrich reported the situation "inside" today as "quiet." He said he did not anticipate any trouble.

Says "Backbone Broken"

"From all appearances it looks as though the backbone of the thing has been broken," stated the commander of the militiamen.

He announced that about 75 of the convicts inside the stockade today requested real food, promising that if given something to eat they would go to work wherever assigned. The men were taken out, fed and put to work.

The E and F dormitory, where two sleeping convicts were shot to death and another prisoner was wounded yesterday when a machine gun of the militia was accidentally discharged, also is being closely watched.

each with its complete organization. Meetings are held weekly, and the scout training program is rigidly observed.

Summer camp at Camp John A. Owens, official scout camp of the Harding Area, increased its use by Marion boys more than one third last year. Not content with this remarkable gain, scout leaders, operating on Community Fund finances, instituted a series of winter camp visits which took groups of scouts on week end vacations last winter.

Act in Civic Project

Scouts have participated in dozens of civic projects and are always available for assistance in any worthy cause. They repaired 1,000 used and broken toys and distributed them among needy homes at Christmas time. They lent a helping hand at the county fair, in Memorial day exercises, and other similar occasions.

An incident which actually occurred in Marion last winter exemplifies scout spirit. A scout troop, none of them in fortunate circumstances, made weekly contributions of food and necessities for a poor family living near their meeting place. They virtually supported the family for several weeks, under supervision of the Community Fund.

Scouting, with its multiplicity of activities in character building, education, and moral training, entailed expenses of $8,858.57 in the last 13 months. To hold open its benefits to Marion youths for another 12 month period the scout committee is asking for $7,991 of the $72,993 goal of the Community Fund drive, May 15 to 21.

COURTS UPHELD

District Tribunal Affirms Judgment of Two Lower Bodies.

The district court of appeals today upheld the Marion county common pleas court and the probate court in removing Betty Williams as administratrix of the estate of John F. Williams, deceased.

The appellate court found no error and affirmed the judgment of the two lower courts at the cost of the plaintiff in error.

Heirs of John F. Williams brought suit several years ago for the removal of Betty Williams as administratrix of the estate, their contention being that she was not the wife of the deceased and that she gained her appointment by fraud. After failing to submit proof of the marriage, she contended that she was Williams' common law wife, but according to the district court, no offer of proof was made and the lower courts were right in rejecting the evidence.

The law firm of Clark & Arter represented the heirs and Charles Dungan, of Columbus, was attorney for the plaintiff in error, assisted by the law firm of Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery.

Named by Court

U. F. Zachman yesterday was appointed by probate court as administrator of the estate of Caroline Zachman.

McBride's Statement to Lobby Probers Called Sacrilegious by Senators.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 9—A statement before the senate lobby committee today by F. Scott McBride that the Anti-Saloon league was "born of God" was described by Senator Blaine as "sacrilegious and outrageous."

Answering a question, McBride had said:

"The league was born of God. It has been led on into and it will go on until it has been done the one thing that stands out in all those things in the way of progress of the Kingdom of God must get out of the way."

"I know you regard your organization as a son of God and that it is defended by God to carry on," Blaine said.

"It began in a prayer meeting," McBride remarked.

"Did you have any message for God that he gave birth to this organization?"

McBride said all the sessions were opened by prayer and that it had been closely allied with the churches.

Asserting that he knew the league "puts on the cloak of religion and claims to be the instrumentality of God," Blaine said, "I don't believe God would approve some of your practices."

The exchange was ended by a demand by Senator Robinson, a Republican dry from Indiana, that the committee "get back to lobbying."

Flat denial that the league had violated the law by failing to report its political expenditures had been previously made by McBride.

A bitter opponent of the league, Representative Tinkham, Massachusetts wet, had charged that organization with consistently violating the corrupt practices act.

Tinkham testified before the lobby committee that the dry association had collected more than $67,000,000 from 1885 to 1926 and had reported only part of the sum spent for political purposes.

"We have not evaded the law," McBride asserted. "I'll be glad to go into that."

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

A Review of Charles Owen's Past

I DO not know what the shoppers and sales men nearest me thought in the seconds following my sudden glimpse of Lillian's young daughter Marion and her roommate Carolyn Brixton under the escort of Charles Owen

They could not have regarded me as wholly sane in the dash away from the art jewelry counter which followed the first sight of a second in which the sight of the winsome faces I knew upon that of Uncle Charles had robbed me of speech and movement even of volition

They must not see me! That was the first message which my benumbed brain sent to my muscles and I obeyed it with a feeling of panic which would have seemed the height of absurdity to anyone acquainted with only the surface facts of the encounter Charles Owen half brother of Samuel Brixton always had been Carolyn's adopted Uncle Charlie Only a few intimates of her mother's youth knew that Samuel Brixton was not Carolyn's father but that he had given his name and legal protection to both the little girl and her brother when he had married their young widowed mother after a peculiarly unhappy first marriage

I knew that Lillian did not expect Marion home from her school until the next day at the earliest Because of the uncertainties of the weather and the possibility of low roads over the mountains it had been decided that Harry and Lillian would drive only to Hoboken and there meet Marion and Carolyn and the two girls whom Carolyn was planning to bring home with her for the Christmas holidays It was a little all that Marion and Carolyn should have come a day earlier and under the chaperonage of Carolyn's uncle but it would not appear to any unanimated person as a reason for the actual terror which was gripping me

Madge Seeks an Explanation

But I was not seeking humdrum, ordinary explanations from the vantage point of a rack in the neighboring book department behind which I had taken sanctuary With my eyes fixed upon the animated group in the art jewelry department I was going over the sinister associations with Charles Owen's name which had caused both Lillian and me such anxiety in the exciting days following the murderous attack upon Prince Georges while he was still living incognito near the farmhouse Harry Underwood had discovered that the attack upon the young heir to the throne of Trees had been inspired and carried out by the members of the deadly yet secret society of Kenelli a number of whose aims was the elimination of any other heir to the throne of Trees than the renegade cousin of Georges the head of their society From an earlier revelation of Prince Georges after his dramatic recognition of Owen we had learned that Samuel Brixton's brother not only understood Greek perfectly but had lived in Greek name when he had first come to Trees and Transylvania and the Prince had told us that the man was a responsible member of Kenelli a danger of his life if he ever set foot in Trees or Transylvania

Owen's Machinations

It was the threat of revealing the whereabouts of Owen to the society which had foiled the probable plan of Brixton's half brother to wed word to Queen Olga of Transylvania that her missing daughter Olna was masquerading as Eleanor Lincoln an American girl of wealth at the Summer estate of Phi Larchen near the Berkshires When only a few days later Prince Georges had been mysteriously attacked Harry Underwood had said that Charles Owen in all probability had sent anonymously to the members of Kenelli the imperial and kneeling that young George Jackson was in reality the missing Prince Georges for whom they were searching He also had said that Owen would at once put hundreds of miles between himself and the scene of the crime and his prediction was verified when Lillian had received a letter from Marion telling of the wonderful things for their room at school which Carolyn Uncle Charlie' was sending them from the different cities through which he was making a business trip For some time however there had been no reference to Owen in Marion's letters Suddenly with an inexplicable little chill at my heart I realized that there had been very few letters from Marion in the last two months Was the child merely too busy to write or was she too much preoccupied by her new "roomie" and her good times —was she growing secretive? And if so why?

Another facet of Charles Owen's personality turned itself toward me. I could not forget how firmly I had believed him to be the controlling factor in Samuel Brixton's proposal of restoration to Marion of money he had fraudulently taken from her father, a proposal which I had believed to be simply a scheme for defrauding the child and her mother and which my counsel to Lillian had foiled—until Marion came of age, at least.

I had thought myself free of Owen

as I ran over my indictments against Charles Owen and a movement away from the art jewelry counter on the part of the group I was watching brought me abruptly away from my hiding place I must not lose sight of Marion again, I said to myself, as I went swiftly toward the three who were still unconscious of my presence near them

Teddy Makes a Bargain

Just then the ... ...benevolent ... ...white whisk... ...He ... ...turned the ... ...one else

A moment and ... Montrose broke the silence coming toward Jacqueline with outstretched hand My dear child he said I am so glad I was on that terrace watching everywhere for you

Teddy gasped and Jacqueline ignored the friendly greeting I don't think I want to speak to you she said during the ... ...astonishment

Sir Franklin was astonished and asked at

My dear said Sir Franklin I am afraid there is a mistake You evidently do not recognize me

I recognize ... ...well, returned Jacqueline instantly and I have ... ...reminded us when you spoke to me over the telephone

My dear child! said Sir Franklin Such ... I have never seen ... ...on the telephone You are ... ...skin

I am not' replied Jacqueline You are Mr Paul Dexter I did not ... ...ship ... ...who ... ...and a ... ...Essex somewhere

But ... ...mystery said Sir Franklin I am certainly the most ... ...unfortunate helpful after the accident But I am not Mr Paul Dexter I have ... ...friend of that name My name is Sir Franklin Montrose.'

Jacqueline was troubled You gave me a card she explained You told me to ... ...up to ask how you were getting on and I ... ...so soon ... later I spoke to Mr Dexter and he was very rude to me

Sir Franklin laughed heartily and rubbed his hands Most dear child this is very unfortunate and I am afraid it was my fault I gave you his card by mistake Will you forgive me?'

'Of course I forgive you said Jacqueline taking the offered hand and smiling on of her sweetest smiles

And now Sir Franklin added trembling to his wife and son will you please introduce me?'

Permit me said Teddy as he came forward gravely and bowed to Jacqueline

Will you allow me to present my father Sir Franklin Montrose Miss Jacqueline Grey on the lady I am going to marry

Sir Franklin turned red Ahem! He coughed uncomfortably I am very pleased indeed to be presented to you Miss Grey I am very much in need of friends in London just now Maybe you can be a practical help I shall always think of you as one of ... ...my life Will you allow me in turn to offer you my friendship and the friendship of my house together with its hospitality, now and at all times in the future'

... ...eyes were moist and her throat a little choky as she bowed She was deeply touched by his stately courtesy

Sir Franklin cleared his throat As or what you have just told me Edward It has taken me rather by surprise and you must forgive me' all of you If I did it just a trifle sudden I should like if you don't mind I should to have a few words with you in private'

Teddy and his father strolled the length of the long room and stood against the window where they were out of earshot Before Sir Franklin could make up his mind how to open the conversation Teddy produced the glass diamonds They lay in his big palm winking wickedly in the light and Sir Franklin stared at them as if he saw a ghost

By the way sir said Teddy 'I have been fortunate enough with Jacqueline's help to recover the diamond necklace which was stolen from the mater at Trees

Sir Franklin gurgled something unintelligible But a long story how it came into my possession continued Teddy pleasantly I'll tell you about it some other time I'm sure pleased to be able to return it to you sir The stones are quite uninjured—haven't suffered in the least I am assured the are worth just as much as when they were lost But I haven't said anything to the mater about it yet in case you want to have them done up a bit before returning them to her

By in time Sir Franklin had partially regained command of himself But there was still a vibration in his voice My dear boy you have been most helpful That is an excellent idea of yours But say anything to your mother about it yet I will have them done up and we will keep it a little surprise for her'

Teddy gave him rather a straight look And about Jacqueline sir'

My dear boy, I congratulate you She is a fine girl as well as a very beautiful one I have reason to know that she has courage and grit Yes I congratulate you You have my blessing both of you

The two men looked at each other for a moment and a slow smile passed between them Then they gripped hands

PLAN CHANGING CRIMINAL CODE

Proposed Drastic Revision Partially Approved by Law Institute.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 9—A drastic revision of the nation's criminal code, designed to untie a score of knots now hindering the movement of justice stood partially approved today by the American Institute of Law.

Until midnight last night debate over a voluminous 'model code of criminal procedure,' proposed as a result of four years labor by institute experts, swayed pro and con among approximately 600 high justices, judges and lawyers, drawn from all parts of the country to the institute's eighth annual meeting.

Then, with 12 chapters still to be considered a ball was called the remaining provisions were placed in the hands of a committee and a vote upon them set for tomorrow.

Among the approved recommendations were:

Selection of extra jurors in protracted trials to eliminate retrials because of sickness or death on a jury.

Examination of jurors by the judge, rather than the opposing counsel.

Permission to defendants to waive jury trial in all but capital cases.

Issuance of a summons instead of a warrant of arrest in minor cases.

Provision for admitting material witnesses to bail and for releasing such witnesses after taking their depositions in case bail cannot be given, thus eliminating long jail confinement.

Provision for prosecution by an information filed by the prosecuting attorney in cases which now must be prosecuted by an indictment of the grand jury.

Simplification of the form of an indictment to prevent guilty persons from escaping conviction through errors in charging the offense.

With this much of the proposed "code" disposed of, the jurists and barristers turned today to the even weightier consideration of their intended 'restatement' of the common law. Seven years already have been consumed in its formation, with completion of the 22 volume task set for 1941.

CUBS BEGIN BATTLE FOR SECOND FLAG

RUN WINNING STREAK TO SEVEN STRAIGHT

Kiki Cuyler Routs Robins with Homer with Two On; Card Hurler Whiffs Eight.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

IT took the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks to get started in the chase for another National league pennant, but once they did get under way, they promptly began to outshine every other team in the league.

The Cubs ended their stand against their western rivals May 3 by beating Pittsburgh to gain a .500 average. Since then they have not lost a game, running their winning streak to seven straight by beating the Phillies and Brooklyn each three times.

The Cubs did it again yesterday in the only game of the seven in which they have had to call on two pitchers. After seven innings of a close battle between Bob Osborn and Ray Phelps, big Brooklyn rookie moundsman, the Cubs put two men on base and Kiki Cuyler routed the Robins with a home run. Buck Wilson followed with another and Chicago wound up with a 7 to 4 victory.

"Wild Bill" Hallahan of the St. Louis Cardinals continued his pursuit of the National league strikeout crown for the year as the Cards handed the Phillies their sixth straight defeat, 6 to 5. He fanned eight, bringing his total to 33, and allowed but four hits.

Champs on Top

Bill Shores of the Philadelphia Athletics also pitched a four hit game against the St. Louis Browns to gain a 7 to 3 victory. The victory left the champions alone in first place in the American league.

Jack Russell held the Chicago White Sox to six thoroughly scattered hits while Boston pounded Al Thomas for 13 blows and a 5 to 1 victory. Tom Oliver hit safely in his 17th consecutive game.

"Sad Sam" Jones was as effective as usual on the mound in hurling Washington to an 8 to 5 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The New York Yankees and Cleveland managed to play only one inning before a shower drowned out the fourth American league game.

The New York Giants again proved the day's heaviest hitting although they had to go 10 innings to beat out Pittsburgh by a 13 to 10 count and hold their precarious position at the top of the National league. The Giants made a total of 19 hits off five pitchers but lost the early lead they had piled up when Pittsburgh rallied to tie the score in the ninth inning. Three hits and a serious error in the tenth gave New York the victory and a 3-1 decision in the four game series.

BUCKEYES TO MEET NAVY TRACK SQUAD

Ohio Scanticlads Clash with Annapolis Team in Only Home Dual Meet.

BY EDWIN SHOENLEB
Staff Correspondent for the Star

COLUMBUS, O., May 9 — Ohio State and Navy will clash Saturday in Ohio stadium in the only home dual meet of the year for the Buckeyes. It will be the last dual track meet appearance of George Simpson, national collegiate sprint champion, and world's record holder, and Dick Rockaway, national collegiate high hurdles champion.

McKechnie, of Navy, will back up against Simpson in the dashes, and Captain "Whitie" Lloyd, of Navy, will tangle with Rockaway over the high and low barriers. The meet starts at 2:30.

Fred Strother, of Beaver, Pa., Ohio State's star quarter-miler, will be unable to start Saturday. He injured his leg in the Penn relays and will be held out this week to save him for the "quad" meet next week.

Frank Hays and Rupert Beetham are all set for the half-mile and Chet Hanover is in good trim for the mile. All three have come close to records this spring and may topple a couple of marks Saturday.

SET DATE FOR 1931 OHIO TRACK RELAYS

May 1 and 2 Named for Famous Meet; Simpson's Title Returns to Circulation.

(Marion Star Bureau)

COLUMBUS, O., May 9—Next year's Ohio relays will be held May 1 and 2, it was announced today at Ohio State University.

Athletics will find much the same program as confronted the participants this year. The 100 yard dash title, won for three years straight by George Simpson of Ohio State, will return to circulation, but most of the other champions are expected to be on hand to defend their 1930 title.

Twenty-two new meet records were established last week in the seventh annual Ohio relays. Eight of the records toppled were in the open class, seven in the college division, five in high school events, and two in the prelatory school relays.

SENIORS BEAT KAPPAS

Epworth Seniors defeated the Kappa Alpha Phi baseball outfit yesterday afternoon on a Steam Shovel diamond 9 to 2. Rank started on the mound for the Kappas but gave way later to Zuspan. Pitsworth did the catching for the losers. Corwin and Rice pitched for the Seniors with Wolfe and Wiedemann backing up the home plate.

REFORM DEFEATS WESLEY

Through an oversight in this department the score of the First Reformed vs. Wesley M. E. baseball tilt was omitted. The game, which was played earlier in the week, resulted in the Reform nine downing the highly touted Wesley outfit 4 to 2. Lashley, Cook, Layman and Williams made up the battery for Wesley with Alley and Bowlson doing the work for the winners.

FINAL INDOOR MAT SHOW FOR MARION SET FOR TONIGHT

Gentle John Kilonis To Head Bill; Outdoor Shows Open in Few Weeks.

GENTLE JOHN KILONIS, the roughneck of the ring, will battle it out with Frank Wolfe, the Australian challenger in the main go of the weekly wrestling show in the Steam Shovel ring starting at 8:15 tonight. This will be the final wrestling show for local devotees of the sport for a few weeks. The shows will be resumed in a short time in an outdoor arena if plans being made by Promoter Criswell work out as expected.

Wolfe has not been tearing things up in American circles for such a long time but he has done plenty in the time he has been here to make the wrestling public sit up and take notice. If he can put Kilonis on the mat tonight it will be another feather in his hat.

Leo Flehhaugh is due to go on another one of his periodic escapades in the squared circle when he takes on one self styled Cyclone Mackey. Mackey's speed should stand him in good stead with the cobbler for the Newark boy is rough and wastes no time in trying to put his man "on the spot." Flehhaugh may take another beating just as he did when he met Charlie Grip some time ago. Charlie proved far too clever for the shoe pegger and Mackey may "flop" him all over again this time.

The preliminary match for the card has not been announced yet. Two local products will do the work in the 10 minute preliminary start.

Bonnie Criswell announces that he is expecting to bring John Pesek to Marion, if possible to do so, to open the outdoor shows of the summer.

MARION MERCHANTS GET STAR CATCHER

Fritz Mackey To Do Backstopping For Local Pro Outfit This Summer.

Fritz Mackey, former versatile baseball athlete of Ohio State university has affixed his signature to a contract calling for his services in backing up the home plate for the Marion Merchants during the 1930 baseball season, which is scheduled to open with the Springfield Clothiers, Sunday at 2:30 in Lincoln Park.

Mackey will post himself behind the plate and stop the slants of the Merchant hurler, McCracken, who hails from Bellefontaine. He pitched last season for Rochester in the International league.

Mackey boasts one of the best all around baseball records of any athlete turned out of the Scarlet and Gray institution in Columbus. His ability to throw out runners attempting to steal second base is undisputed and he also swings a mean war club when he steps to the plate to take his three strikes. He will be facing one of the Wittenberg college stars when he bats against Lefty Reed, who is booked to hurl for the visitors. The locals are looking to Mackey to add a lot of punch to the rejuvenated 1930 Marion baseball lineup.

REFORMED TEAM VICTORS

Marion Reformed church baseball team made the best out of town trip recorded this year for any local church team and took the Bucyrus St. John's Reformed team into camp by a 9 to 1 count. The locals outshone the Bucyrus team from start to finish, hanging hits all over the lot to score their runs. The battery for the Marion team was Howison and Miley. For Bucyrus, Clady, Papp and Louson.

RUSH WORK ON NEW MAR-O-DEL COURSE

Workmen Busy Preparing Greens; Board of Directors Meet Monday Night.

With several gangs of workmen busy pushing to completion the new Mar-O-Del golf course south of the city it is probable that the entire layout will be ready for occupancy and play within a short period of time.

Seven of the nine greens have been thrown up and are now having the grass bese applied. The water system, which is reputed to be one of the best on any course around this section of the state, will be installed during next week. The concrete tank for use with the centrifugal pump has already been constructed. The fairways have been mowed once and rolled several times to insure smoothness. The club house located on the Delaware rd. is being reconditioned and remodeled.

A meeting of the board of directors has been called for Monday, May 12.

Prince of Wales Shines in Close Golf Match

By The Associated Press

SUNNINGDALE, England May 9—Two American Golfing champions, and a reverential gallery of 150 were convinced on Thursday afternoon that the Prince of Wales possesses in addition to his other talents, a surprising amount of finishing power in a close golf match.

He demonstrated this by his flawless and bold play on the last three holes of the new course at Sunningdale which enabled himself and his partner, Bobby Jones, to square a Scottish foursome match with Sir Victor Sassoon and Harrison R. Johnston, American amateur champion, after the latter pair had brought them through the fifteenth green three down.

Trinity Loses 3 to 2 on Last Inning Rally

Victims of a seventh inning rally, the Trinity Baptists were beaten 3 to 2 yesterday afternoon when they played the First Presbyterians on the Steam Shovel diamond. Trinity was ahead up to the seventh when they weakened and let the winners score three times. Osterholt, Applegett and Roberts pitched for Trinity with Walker and Sage dividing the hurling assignment for the winning nine.

In another practice game played on one of the Shovel diamonds the Steam Shovel Commercials walloped the Industrials, 14 to 0 in seven innings.

REDS BEAT BOSTON TO GAIN EDGE IN FOUR-GAME SERIES

Men of Howley Win Final Game with Braves on Sacrifice Hits in Eighth.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 9—Ruby had an even over Cunningham in a pitchers' duel Thursday and the Reds took a 1 game lead over 2 to 1 game from the Braves.

Boston scored its lone run on a single by Berger, Neun's sacrifice and Maguire's single.

The Reds blanked for seven innings, scored twice in the eighth on a walk to Stripp, single by Ford and two sacrifice flies by Hellmann and Critz. The Reds won three out of four from Boston.

The Reds got only five hits off Cunningham, three of which were made by Shaefferth, young catcher, who was moved up to third place in the line-up by Howley because he is a dependable batter.

Boston missed a fine chance to score in the third when it filled the bases on a single, double and walk but Rixey bore down and got Neun on a foul to Shaefferth for the third out.

Howley's men did not have many scoring chances and two fast double plays, Maguire to Marandille to Neun cut off two would-be rallies. Spohr Boston catcher was banished in the 8 spot by Umpire McGrew for protesting a decision at the plate which Ford scored the winning run. Critz's sacrifice. Cunningham protested the argument and also was sent to the bench.

Ethan Allen always has played either center or left for the Reds as Fuhs announced during fielding practice Thursday because Heathy and Affo, working alongside Walker, [illegible] Score by innings:

Substitutes Now Available For Old Time a la Newburg

THE author of a la Newburg sauce was only a memory to most of us because one of its important ingredients is not among the things one can buy. Of course there are substitutes pleasant enough but what gave the a la Newburg sauce of other days its particularly fine flavor was just a little mistress of fine sherry, quite two tablespoons true but it did make a difference.

Lobster meat, shrimps and crab meat are the basis of any of the a la Newburg dishes which are usually as follows:

Shrimp a la Newburg

2 cups cooked shrimp
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoon flour
1 cup cream
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons cooking sherry
1 tablespoon salt
Dash of cayenne

Melt the butter stir in the flour rubbing smooth and gradually add the cream. When well blended put in the shrimps and when well heated add the various seasonings and finally the beaten egg yolks. Stir together and serve at once.

Lobster a la Newburg is prepared in much the same way. The cooked lobster meat either fresh or canned is added to the sauce after it is cream mixture. If crabmeat is used the large crabs are preferable as the meat should be kept in as large pieces as possible not permitted to shred too much. If fresh crabs are used, the flesh should be examined very carefully to make sure that none of the shell adheres to the meat—which is as annoying in crab as it is in lettuce.

Although usually Chicken a la King, there is no reason why this very excellent sauce should not be used in combination with other available bases. If tuna fish is used it will take very much like of lobster but veal, after careful treatment or any delicate fleshed cooked fish can be blended with it.

Chicken a la King

2 cups diced cooked chicken
½ cup chicken broth
½ cup cream
1 cup mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 small green pepper
1 pimiento
1 egg yolk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of paprika
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Melt the butter in a saucepan add the mushrooms and green pepper cut [illegible] Add the flour and [illegible] When [illegible] add the cream [illegible] Add the [illegible] Beat the egg yolk [illegible] Add the lemon juice [illegible]

Serve from [illegible]

It will be seen that the two sauces are much alike the difference being that the a la King [illegible] and peppers and pimento. Also it does not require the addition of sherry. (Which may account for the fact that in these times many of the epicures claim that the a la Newburg and the a la King sauces quite the same in flavor when served in most hotels and restaurants.) Cooking sherry is sold by most fine grocers and it is adequate—though, of course, not quite the same as the old time vintage.

Affliction of most old sayings is that they're cheap.

Care Needed in Cooking of French Fried Potatoes

A simple dish of French fried potatoes takes more care than is apparent. It's one of those foods that are perfectly delicious if properly prepared. But when it is, then it deserves the praise said about it.

One of the objections to this popular dish is "indigestible." Any fried food is indigestible if the fat is either too hot or not hot enough. The fat must be hot enough to form a crust on the outside immediately—so that the food doesn't absorb the fat, which is what would make it greasy. But if the fat is too hot, the food will burn before it is cooked.

Be Careful of Choice.

To prevent either of these mishaps, first choose the right kind of fat. Lard, drippings or vegetable fat are all good, as these can be made very hot without burning. Butter is the poorest for frying as it burns easily. Abroad olive oil is used extensively, and many people consider this the perfect fat, but it has a special flavor of its own which is not popular with everyone on this side.

Use a deep kettle for frying—the round-sided metal saucepan known as a "Scotch bowl" is best. The frying basket should be the right size to fit neatly over the top, so that food can be left in it safely without tilting. Heat the fat slowly, and when it reaches beyond bubbling stage drop in a small piece of bread. It should brown in one minute. Food should not be cooked in the fat while it is still bubbling but after that, when it begins to smoke. While it is not hot enough to form a crust.

Also, enough fat should be used to cover the food completely. This is not wasteful, as the same fat can be strained afterward and used again.

Saratoga Potatoes.

Begin by selecting potatoes of the same size. Peel and cut paper thin into the same size slices. Soak a few minutes in cold water, then place in a bowl of ice water for an hour, to get crisp as well as cold. Drain and dry on a napkin. Then place a few slices in the wire frying basket and immerse in the cooking hot fat. As soon as they turn light brown, place in a wire colander to drain, then on a large paper-lined platter which could be left in a warm oven. It is necessary to keep the potatoes hot as each batch is finished so that they dry and crisp quickly. Just before serving, season with a little salt.

Keep the potatoes in a dry place, and if they should cool before serving time, it is easy to crisp them again by placing in the oven a few moments.

French Fried Potatoes.

Peel and cut potatoes lengthwise in even shapes. They should not be too large. It usually requires two potatoes. After they are first sliced lengthwise, then the slices cut in strips. Large potatoes may have to be cut in halves first. Place the strips in ice water for an hour, then dry, and put a few at a time in the frying basket and fry in deep fat. Drain on soft paper and keep hot in the oven. Season with salt and a dash of pepper before serving.

KEEPING LETTUCE FRESH

Crisp lettuce leaves have a place of supreme importance in this salad eating era. To have them forever ready for any emergency is a cook's problem for the edges of the leaves do have a way of turning brown in a most irritating fashion. They will keep fresh and green for a surprising length of time if, after being thoroughly washed, they are wrapped in a piece of old linen, such as a napkin or a strip from a discarded tablecloth. Then place the unpeeled bag next to the ice. In this way they will absorb just the right amount of moisture to keep them in the green condition.

Knowing what not to say, often means not saying anything.

FEAR LACK OF RAIN WILL DAMAGE CROPS

Grains Now in Ground Suffering from Drouth, Reports Here Indicate Today.

Widespread damage to Ohio crops, including heavy losses in Marion county, is being done by continued dry spells, reports today indicated, according to a press survey made over the state today.

While a dozen Ohio counties reported crop growth to be almost at a standstill, and in some sections damaged to the extent of a total loss, Paul C. Smith, service manager of the Marion County Farm Bureau reported the drought will result in a heavy loss to farmers in this county.

Oats, wheat and corn now in the ground is suffering from the intense heat and lack of rain, Service Manager Smith said. Little anxiety is felt for total loss of crops yet, but continued dry conditions may take a heavy toll.

Discouraged by the unfavorable prospects and hampered in their cultivation of fields, Marion county farmers are reluctant to plant corn that normally should have been growing by this date.

A "miniature famine" is faced in Licking county unless there is a heavy rainfall soon, according to Charles B. Aispach, of Newark, extension agent of that county. Crops are in need of rain, he said.

Hardin, Delaware and Union counties have reported the same conditions. In most cases, wheat is the crop most heavily hit, but in southern counties, especially Lawrence and Jackson, fruit orchards have been seriously damaged by the drought.

You can tell which men at a municipale were brought there by their wives. They don't applaud.

NOW... You can have Isaly's Ice Cream in this NEW WAY

"Dry Ice" packed

Just the thing for picnics, parties or club affairs

DRY ICE, with its 109 degrees below zero temperature is merely solidified carbon dioxide gas,—the same healthful gas used in charging carbonic beverages. DRY ICE keeps ice cream better, cleaner, purer over a longer period of time, and as it melts it passes directly from a solid to a gaseous state, leaving no residue of moisture or liquid—and no trace of its presence.

DRY ICE packing requires only a small cardboard container—a little larger than the package containing the ice cream. When the ice cream is consumed the package is thrown away. There is no tub, no ice, no salt, no muss from water—and the ice cream keeps perfectly from 8 to 10 hours.

Early Advances Scored in Chicago in Sympathy with Liverpool Pit

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 9 — Unexpected strength shown by Liverpool in response to early reports today of wheat sales here In some quarters the Liverpool advance was ascribed unfavorable prices from Italy and France as millers began to prepare for possible purchases in the United States to ensure their requirements

Opening 1 4@1 4 higher Chicago wheat afterward moved somewhat irregularly figures from the first sales with some standing but soon slipping later sagging to below yesterday's finish

Announcement today of export buying of United States hard winter wheat at the best premium yet this season did a good deal to encourage friends of higher prices Meanwhile Australian shipments were reported as enlarged and Argentine offerings cheaper

An outstanding feature much of the time today in the wheat trade was increased selling on advances But rumor like let up whenever the market declined conspicuous lack of difference of opinion were expressed as to the yield showing of the monthly official crop report from Washington this afternoon Fliers of advices in all steel that a bullish exhibit was looked for there but some Chicago crop authorities were asserting that the report could hardly be otherwise than bearish
